CURTAIN CALL

It's curtain call at The Mr. Potato Head Show—time to put on another show. So where are all the cast and crew? Flip through the magazine and find all ten characters, wherever they may hide. Then check out page 38 to place them on their marks. Aaannd...action!

The weirdest, funniest new show anywhere is The Mr. Potato Head Show. Only on FOX KIDS, Saturdays! Answers on page 39.

FOX KIDS BIZ™

Welcome, friends.

Dog Zero here again. Your mission, should you decide to accept it, is to read this magazine cover to cover, and keep a detailed report for your files. You will no doubt find the usual fun and frivolity, but pay special attention to anything that might introduce new characters, or new shows. Look closely at the evolution of Godzilla, and be sure to play the Mad Jack game on pages 20–21. There's a lot of new stuff in this issue! We're counting on you to digest it all (no, please don't eat the magazine...or pee on it, for that matter). This message will self-destruct in seventeen million years.

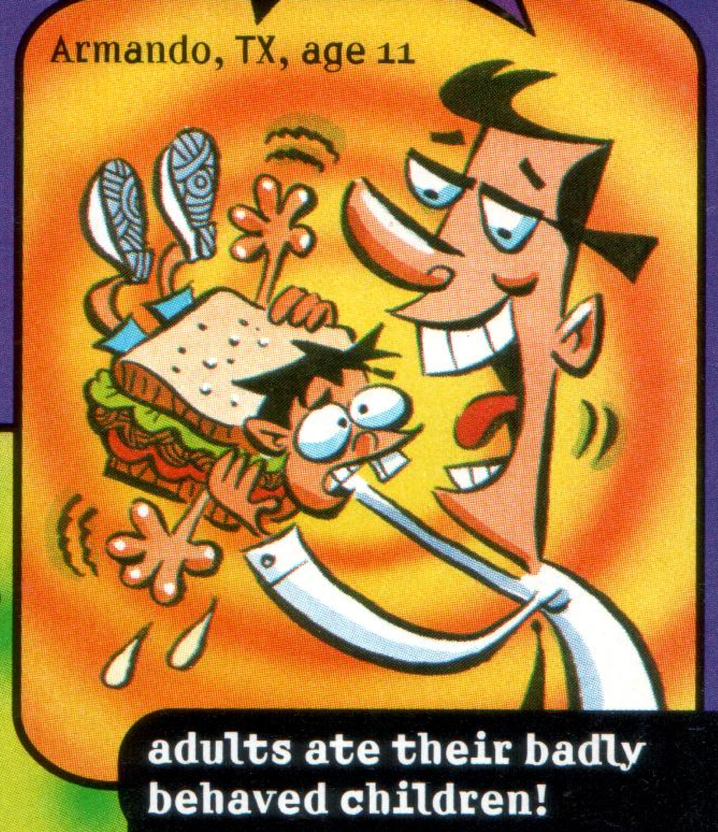

William, MN, age 9

a flower ate you!

wouldn't it be

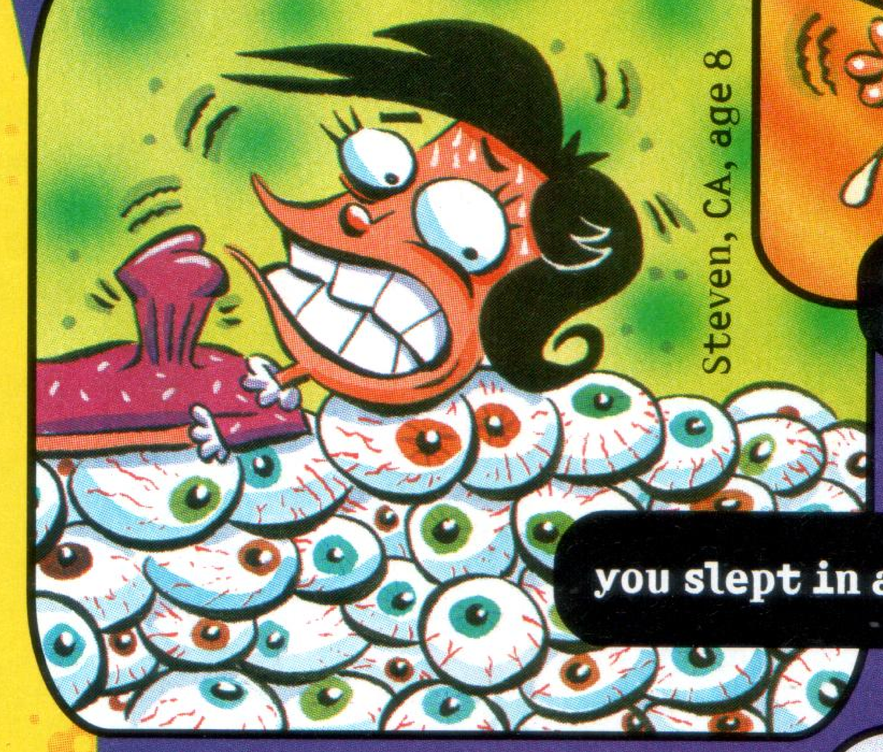

SCARY

if...

Armando, TX, age 11

adults ate their badly behaved children!

Steven, CA, age 8

you slept in a bed of eyeballs!

Julia, SC, age 12

you had to go to the doctor and dentist every day!

Robert, MD, age 11

you mysteriously gained 100 lbs overnight!

Thanks to everyone who logged on to www.foxkids.com and gave us their scary ideas!

YOUNG HERCULES™

Ryan Gosling!

He's not a Greek hero (half god, half mortal), but he plays one on TV. As Young Hercules, Ryan Gosling gets a chance to flex his acting muscles, find the power within his heart, and wear a really cool costume. FOX KIDS got the scoop on the hunky hero, while he was filming in New Zealand.

TFK: What was your first acting job?

rg: I was on the Mickey Mouse Club. That was great fun. It was like Saturday Night Live for kids. Singing, dancing, skits. Great, now it's out of the bag. Everyone will know that I sing and dance.

TFK: What kind of martial arts training had you done before you started Young Hercules?

rg: None. I watched a lot of kung fu movies, tons of them. I had a Blockbuster belt! I started training with Doug Wong just before the show. He's the same guy that trained Kevin Sorbo and Lucy Lawless. He taught me a lot about weapons and how to stand and stuff.

TFK: Do you have a girlfriend?

rg: No, I don't have time. I'd have to meet a pretty special girl who would understand my schedule.

TFK: What makes you fall for a girl?

rg: She'd have to be super understanding about the work, that it takes so much out of you that you really don't have time for many other things. She'd have to be someone who was willing to accept that; that's pretty special.

TFK: How do you think you'll recognize Ms. Right?

rg: If she asked me out...

TFK: What does a guy like Hercules eat for lunch?

rg: Well, I eat whatever's on the catering truck. They have this stuff here called kumra. It's a little bit like a sweet potato. They make kumra fries, baked kumra. It's terrific. Really great.

TFK: Have you ever met Xena?

rg: Yeah, I met Lucy. She came to the set with her kids. She gave me good advice about playing the part.

TFK: What's the most exciting thing you've ever done on the show?

rg: Probably being chased by a huge fireball. That was pretty neat. We set off about 25 of them. They were these huge, huge blasts and we were running away from them, and they had the whole back of our heads greased up so we couldn't catch on fire. It was pretty neat.

TFK: What's the wackiest thing that's ever happened to you on any set?

rg: Just yesterday I was covered in mud for the entire day. I had to do this scene where I was pretending to be like my friend, Iolaus. I had a mop on my head and I was rolling around in a pigpen, just covered in mud the whole day, acting with pigs.

TFK: Is it ever dangerous, doing this kind of thing? Do you do your own stunts or do you have stunt people?

rg: I try and do as much as I can, but anything that is too dangerous, they don't let us do.

TFK: What's the weather like in New Zealand?

rg: The seasons are the exact opposite from over there. Right now we're going into winter. It's getting kind of cold and we're running around the forest half naked. It's not as glamorous as you thought. Fiji is right near here, about an hour away. Hopefully we can make a trip out there.

TFK: How do you feel about the costumes you wear on the show?

rg: It's the kind of costume that you really have to like because I don't change, I wear that every day. It's all made out of leather; it's finely woven. They're really beautiful and intricate. I'm pretty lucky—I have the coolest costume on the set (don't tell anybody I said that).

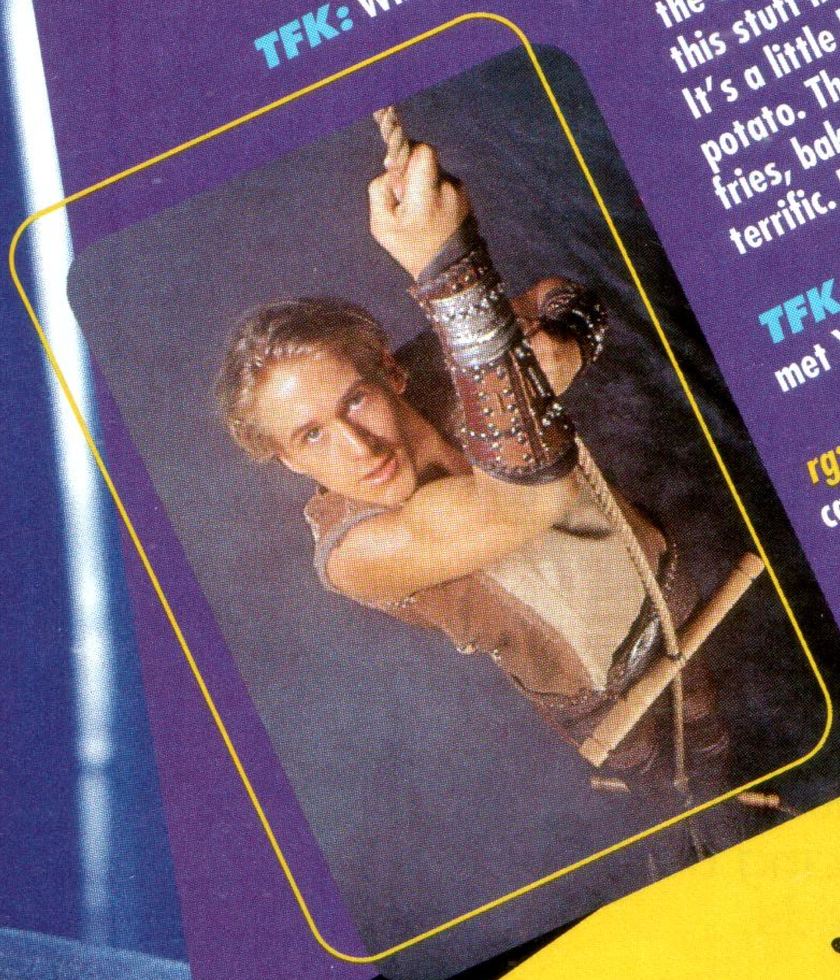

TFK: Do you have any advice for kids who might want to be actors?

rg: It's something you just have to stick with. It's not something that's going to happen right away. Ninety-nine percent of the business is rejection. Maybe that one time or one percent you get work or positive feedback (at least that's my experience). You just have to stick it out. It's a lot of fun and you have to take everything with a grain of salt.

TFK: Why should kids watch Young Hercules?

rg: Because it's going to be fun! It's completely different from anything that's on right now, as far as kids' shows go. Come hang out with us!

This all-new live-action series comes to FOX KIDS every Tuesday through Saturday!

SABAN'S MYSTIC KNIGHTS OF TIR NA NOG

little

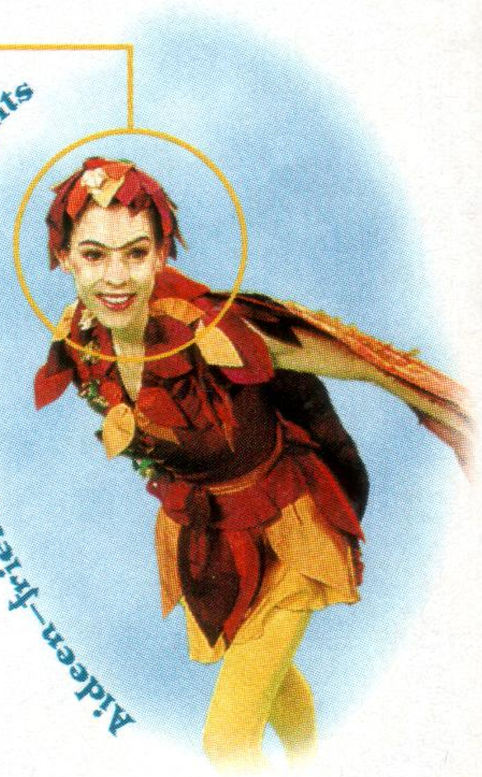

Starting in September, you're going to be watching the Mystic Knights of Tir na Nog, probably the coolest action adventure ever to come to kids' TV. It's all based on Celtic mythology, stories told for centuries in Ireland about the history of the island. There are heroes in armor (see our cool cover), fire-breathing dragons, evil witches, and, of course, the little people.

You've probably heard of fairies and leprechauns, but what in the Blarney stone is a spriggan? And what's the difference between a brownie and a pixie? For that matter what's the difference between a Brownie and a Girl Scout? Well, FOX KIDS has come to the rescue again! Here, for your reading pleasure, is a short encyclopedia of those who live in the "land of youth" (Tir na Nog).

Fairy

Fairy is a term that can mean any or all of the little people. They're all fairies of one kind or another. But by fairy, we also mean the beautiful little people with wings who are sometimes mischievous, but usually friendly. Most fairies have some small magic power, and many are linked with a body of water, an animal, or a flower.

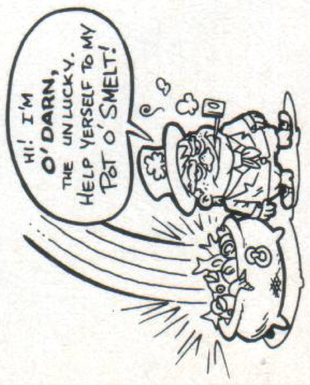

Red Cap

Red caps are goblins who are just plain evil. They usually live in old ruined castles, especially ones with a wicked history. They keep their caps red by dyeing them in blood. (Now that's just gross!)

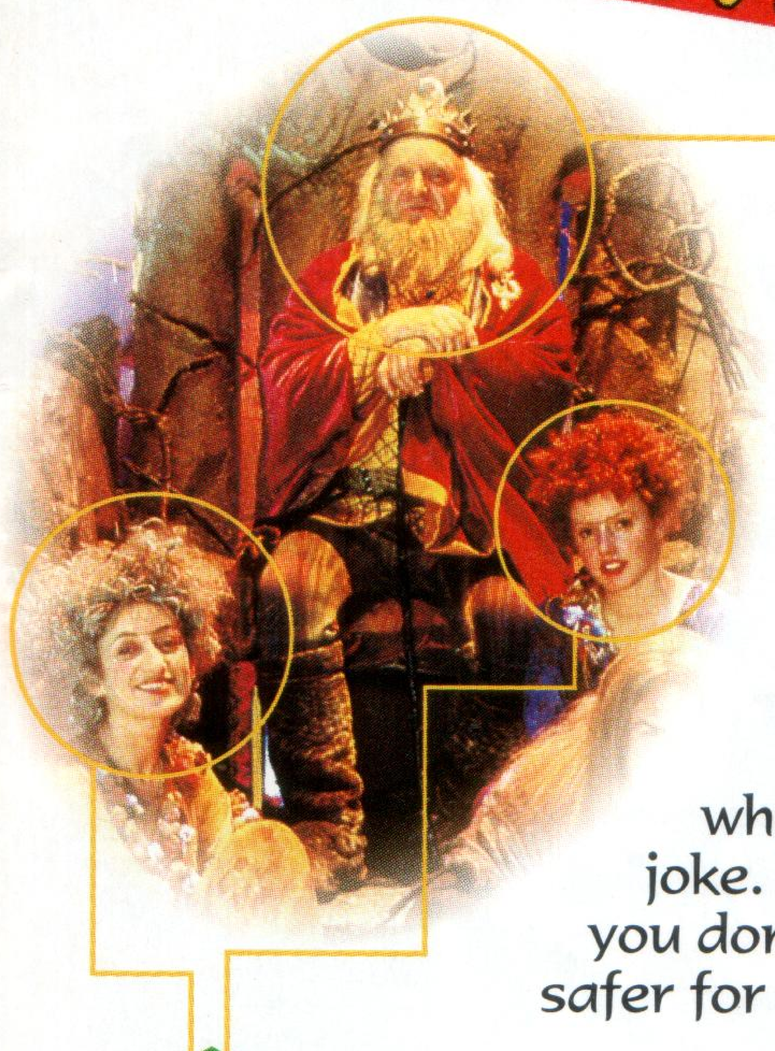

Spriggan

These guys are at the bottom of the fairy-folk ladder of success. They are ugly and mean. They have been known to take babies from their cribs, carrying them back to Tir na Nog, and replacing them with their own gross kids.

people of Tir Na Nog

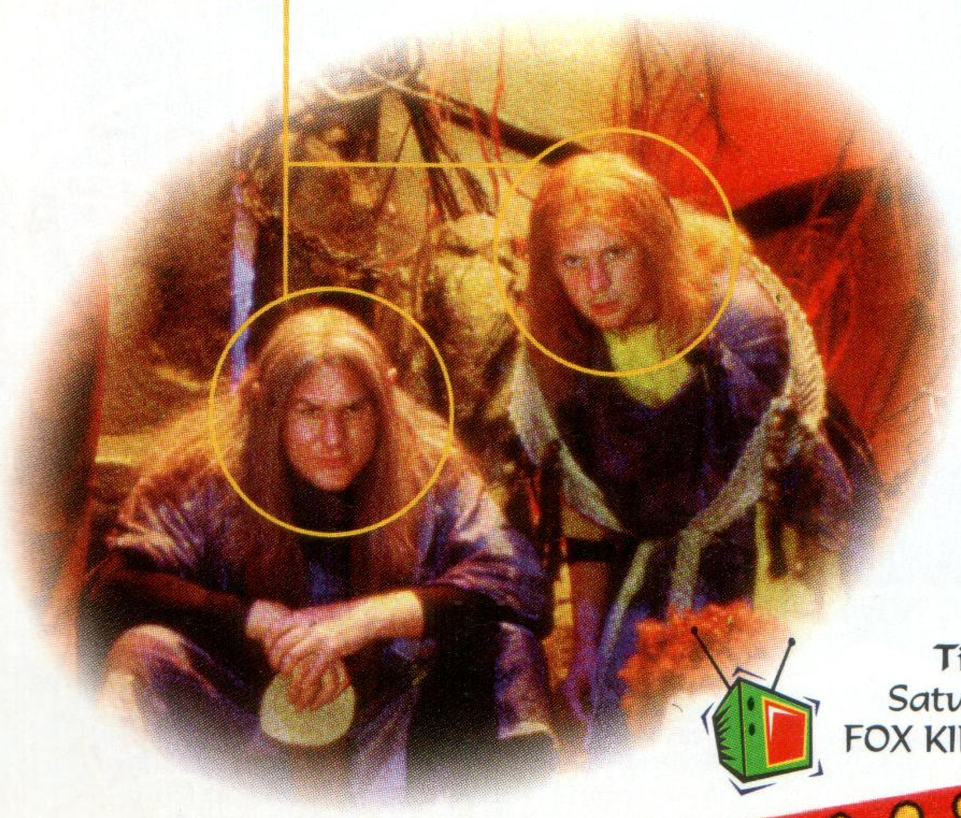

Fin Varra King of all little people, he was originally a member of the Tuatha de Danann, giants who ruled Ireland. When their power shrunk, so did their size, and they retreated underground, to Tir na Nog. King Fin Varra has great magic power, and is a strong warrior.

Fir Darrig A pretty ugly little guy, who really likes a good practical joke. What he doesn't like is when you don't think his joke is funny. It's safer for everyone if you just play along.

Wood Elf Wood elves are very mischievous, but not really dangerous. They love nothing more than to hang out in the forest with the trees and wildlife. Sometimes, they'll do chores for an unsuspecting forester while he sleeps, but they are easily offended and will leave without warning.

Bogie Bogies are similar to goblins. They are not very nice, but they prefer to do harm to bad guys, like thieves. Many bogies are said to have shape-shifting abilities, and can appear as any kind of animal.

The legends of little people started a long time before they could be written down. Thousands of years ago, in fact. So, it's possible that years of storytelling have changed some of the "facts." Still, when you're watching Mystic Knights, this handy guide will help you spot the wee folk. And when you're out in the garden, maybe you'll see one hiding behind a shrub...just don't blink.

See the little people, the big dragons, and the heroes doing battle on the Mystic Knights of Tir na Nog, weekdays and Saturdays on FOX KIDS!

BRIGHT IDEAS

Ms. Frizzle is here with another eye-opening lesson! Every morning it just happens. You wake up and it's there. No, not breakfast—LIGHT! From millions of miles away, the sun shoots a ray of the stuff into your eye and shouts, "Hey, pillow-head, wake up!" So take a ride on Scholastic's The Magic School Bus and have fun on the lighter side.

FAST FACT: Light, all light, travels at the same speed: 186,282 miles per second. Faster than you can say Ms. Frizzle!

◀ Your TV is really just a bunch of colored light being shot at you. So you can play with that light, too! Create your own "big-screen" TV! Use a magnifying mirror (like a makeup or shaving mirror), and reflect the TV's light on the wall behind it. Okay, so you have to look at it upside down, but think of it as a big-screen TV—with a twist!

FAST FACT: Light from the sun has traveled 93 million miles before it gets to your eyes—give or take a few inches.

◀ There are some types of light you can't see. The remote control for your TV uses infrared light to tell the TV what to do. You can bend the infrared light like you would a flashlight beam, or the TV light, by using a mirror. Stand in another room and use your mirror to change channels on your TV. This one will drive your little brother crazy. Just remember to leave it on FOX KIDS when you're done!

FAST FACT: It would take the world's fastest land animal, the cheetah, 151 years to travel the distance light travels in eight minutes.

Getting 'N Sync

No, Chris Leary's not talking about where you wash the dishes (in sink). He's talking about (and to) one of the hottest groups on the air!

Chris Leary

CL: What were you guys like when you were kids?

'NS: Rambunctious. Actually, we were pretty obedient. You should have interviewed our parents on that one.

CL: What's your favorite song to perform on stage?

'NS: Right now, I like performing "I Want You Back" because it's cool to see the audience sing your own song back to you.

CL: When did you first hear your song on the radio?

'NS: In Europe! The first time in the United States was in our hometown, Orlando.

CL: Where did you get the name 'N Sync?

'NS: Actually, that was my mom. She came up with the name. Good going, Mom! It just kind of represents us with our harmonies, our dancing, and also with our personalities, 'cause we like to do a lot of things together, like go to the movies or play basketball.

CL: You guys are actual buddies? You hang out together?

'NS: Yeah, isn't that sick?

CL: If you guys weren't a singing group, what would you have been doing?

'NS: We'd be a basketball team. That's right! We'd be the bench!

The hottest music and the coolest stars are only on the FOX KIDS Countdown! Check out the back cover for your local station!

Goosebumps™

CREATURE CRAFTS

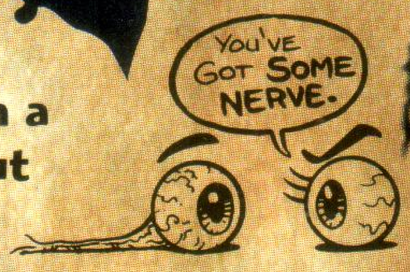

So what, if Halloween is two months away? It's never too early to start creeping out your friends and family (that's something we firmly believe on the set of Goosebumps)! A good Halloween means planning, and we've got the goods on plans to make yours the scariest ever!

First, you're going to need a jack-o'-lantern. But if you cut triangle eyes and a goofy-toothed smile in it, you're not even going to scare your cat. So re-create one of the designs below, and you've got a spook-o-matic fright-o'-lantern.

Draw one of these designs with a black crayon on your pumpkin—or just enlarge the design with a photocopy machine and trace it. Size doesn't matter, but the bigger you draw it, the easier it'll be to cut.

Finally, have an adult use a serrated knife to cut the design; or if you have a serrated, but not sharp, pumpkin cutting tool, do it yourself!

Cool tip: Rigging up a pumpkin with a black light bulb inside instead of a candle is a bit tricky, but with Mom's or Dad's help, it can create a haunting effect!

There are tons of other things you can do to haunt your own house. Scary sounds eeking out from your stereo, strobe lights, black plastic sheets hanging around the porch, fake arms and hands coming up from the dirt in the yard. One of our favorites, and an easy one to boot, is to draw an outline of a person on the ground with chalk. It's a scream!

• Why didn't the skeleton cross the road? He didn't have the guts.
— Jerod, 1A, age 13

Life With Louie: The Great Alien Invasion

Read and Reviewed by FOX KID Angela Jezyk, Age 12

The Great Alien Invasion is very clever and humorous! The plot starts out that Louie and his friend, Gruenwald, had an assignment to do a science project. Louie's friend seemed to have a good idea when he said they should build a spaceship. However, an accident led to the whole project being a failure. When the spaceship accidentally flew away, Louie's father saw it, and he thought it was a real spaceship! He starts telling the whole town about what happened, and they all believe that real aliens are going to come on Halloween night. I liked it a lot, and I am sure other kids will love it!

SPACED OUT!

LIVING (AND WORKING) IN SPACE

The Power Rangers face a bunch of problems in space. They have to keep the Galaxy safe from evil, fight Quantrons, and still keep their grades up. What happens to astronauts in space? They float—people float, forks float, and food floats. This presents some pretty wild problems for them as they live and work on board the space shuttle.

EATING (and drinking)

Most of the food the astronauts take into space is dehydrated. That means the water is taken out before takeoff, and put back in just before dinner time. Water floats, too (in little blobs), which could be dangerous for equipment. We can only hope the food is better than on a normal airline.

EXERCISING (and health)

Weightlessness does weird stuff to your body. It makes your head bigger and your feet smaller. It makes you taller (which is cool) and it makes you weaker (which is not). Astronauts exercise daily to stay healthy in zero gravity. A half-hour strapped to the treadmill does wonders for the old ticker, but you have to make sure that sweat doesn't build up and float away.

WASHING (and stuff)

Astronauts can't take showers in space (they tried on Skylab, but ended up vacuuming water for hours). Instead they take sponge baths. And when nature calls, there's a bathroom with a light for reading, a window (for the really cool view), and a vacuum takes care of the um, er, uh...rest.

If living in zero G is so tricky, why do they do it? Well, aside from the cool somersault factor, there are actually scientific experiments that can only be performed in space. Besides, until they get a cool ship like the Power Rangers have, it's the only way to get that great view!

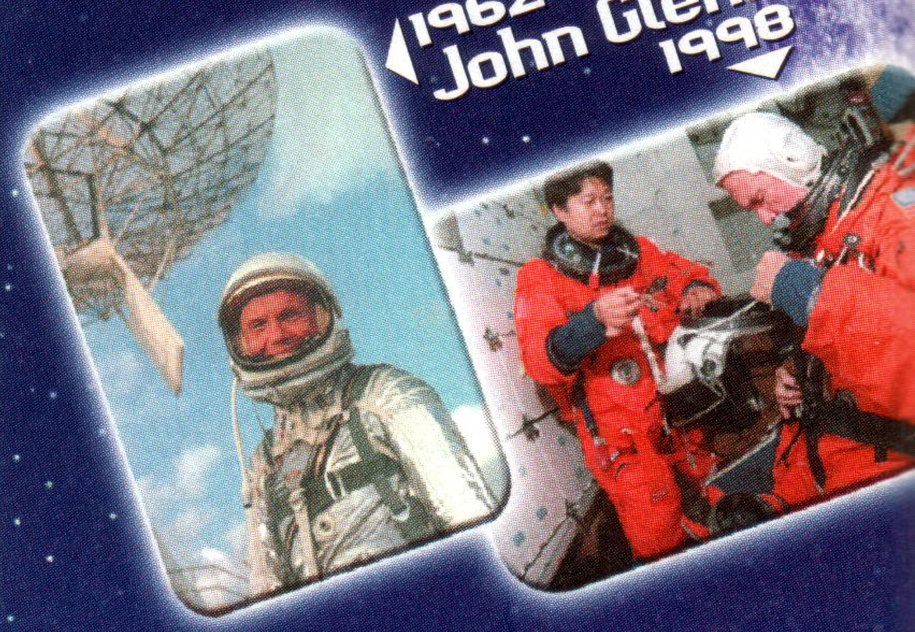

The Power Rangers make living in space an adventure, on FOX KIDS!

What Goes Around...

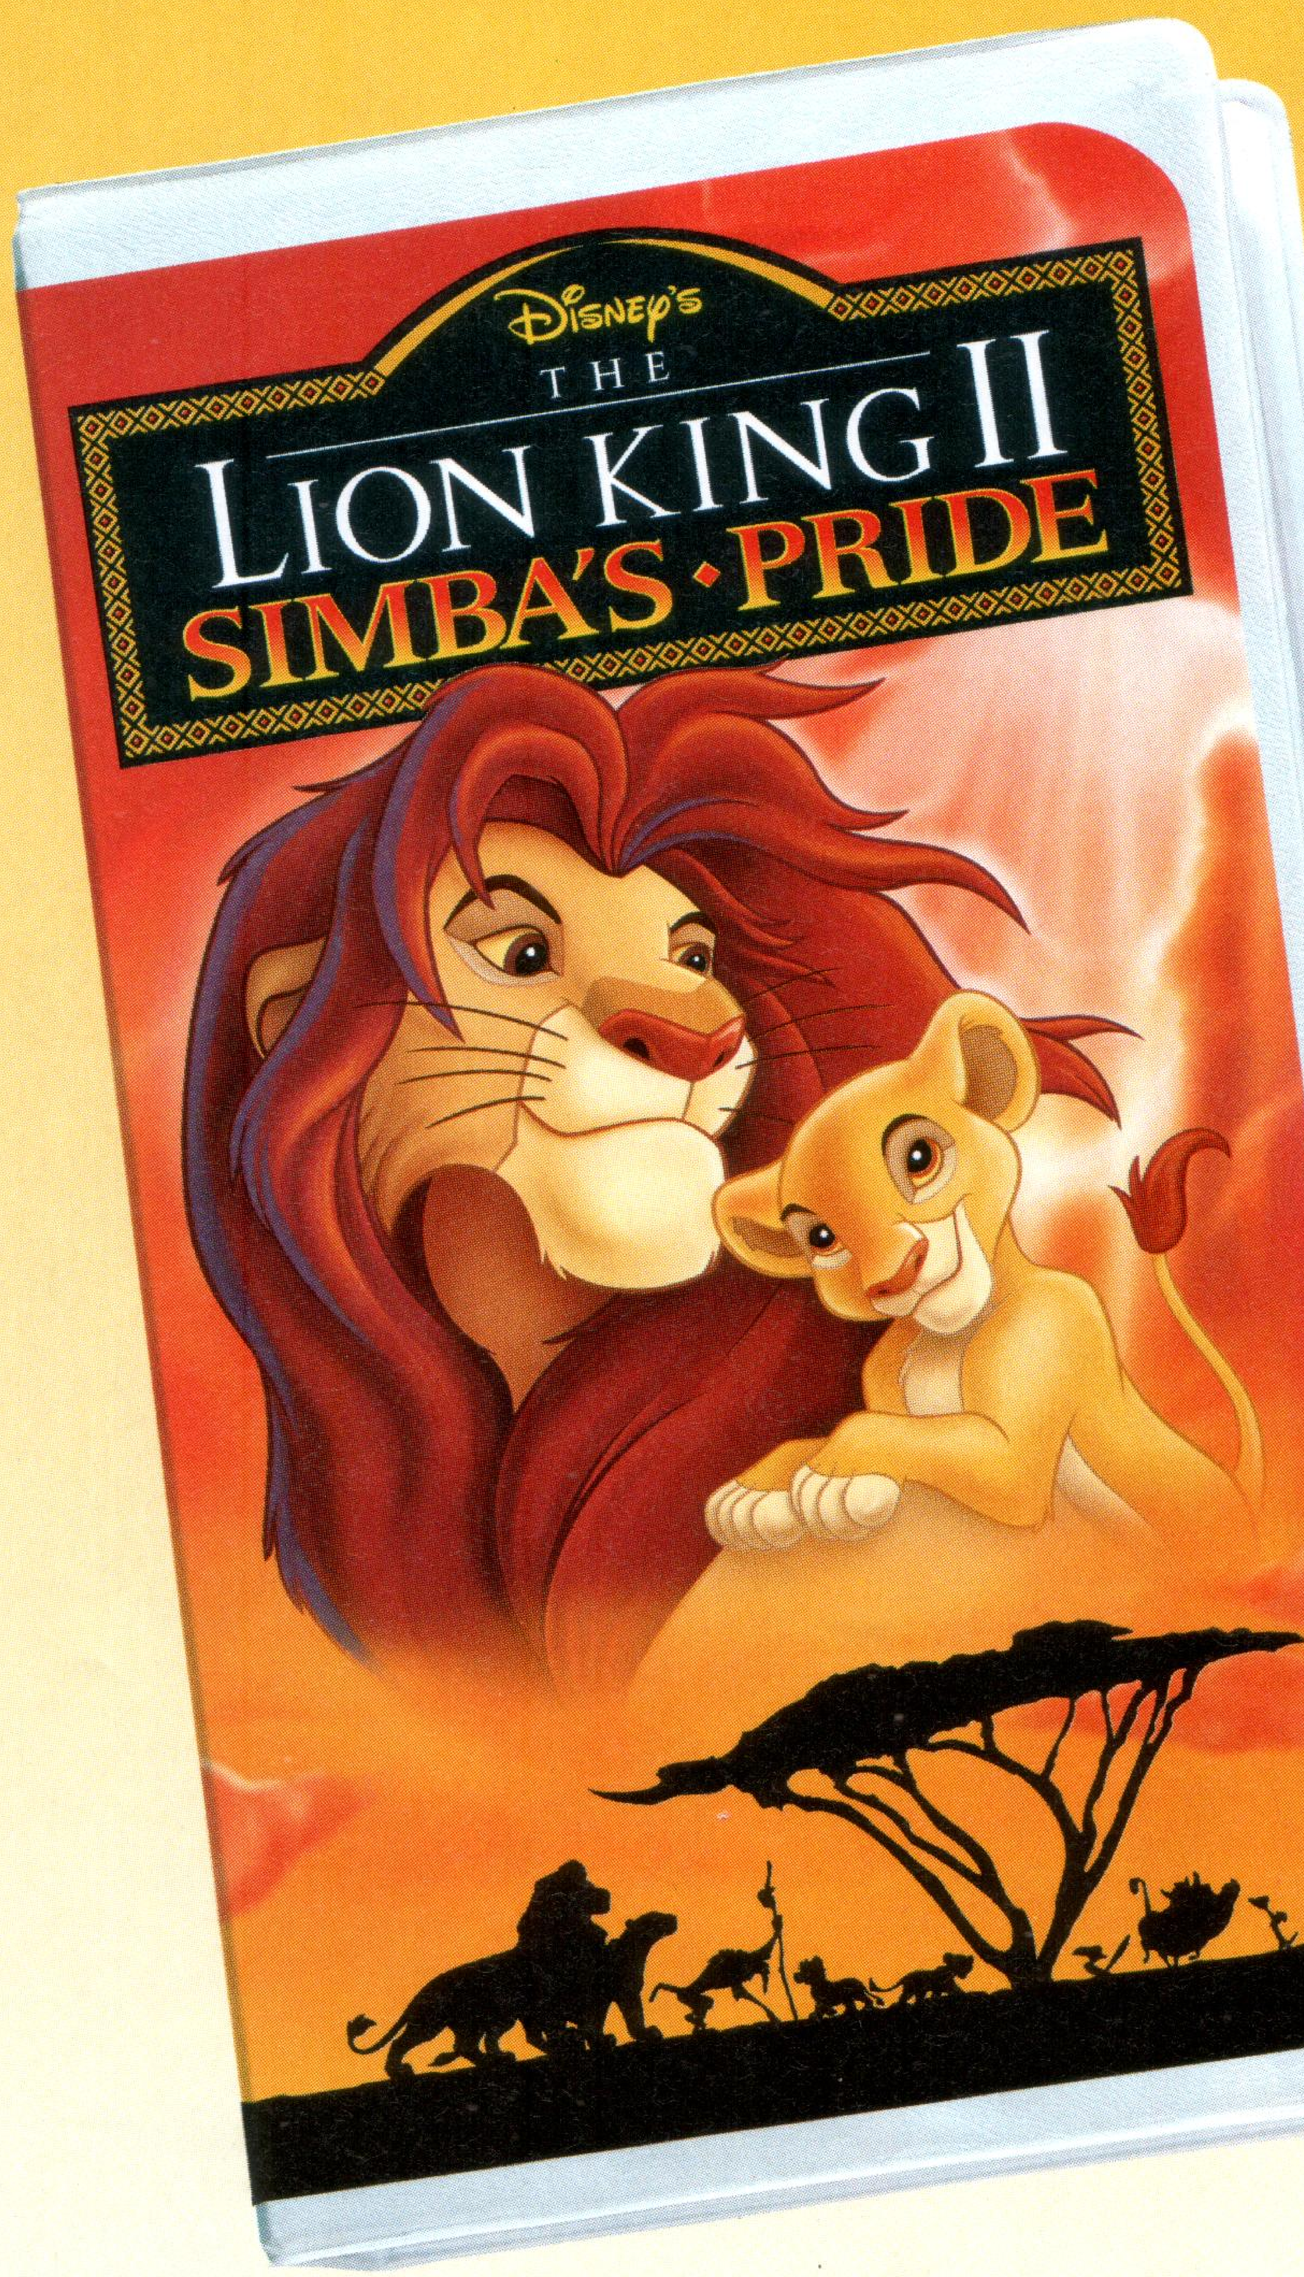

Senator John Glenn of Ohio was the first American to circle the earth in 1962. He's older than your grandparents, and he'll be blasting off again! This is what he has to say to FOX KIDS about going up one more time.

"The technological advances that have developed since my last flight in 1962 are just amazing. The space shuttle Discovery is a wonder compared to the Friendship 7, the ship I rode in to orbit the earth three times in just under five hours. Communications are much easier and faster, takeoff is safer, and it actually lands just like an airplane. Friendship 7 had to plunge into the ocean. Spacesuits have also dramatically changed, and I am thankful for that, since I'm not quite sure I can still fit into my old suit. This is a dream come true. I just can't wait to get back up among the stars and look down on Earth one more time."

Mad Jack The Pirate™

SAIL THE SLAB GAME

and, er...I don't know, um... get some gold dingots or something...

Start

Pass "Start." Collect 10 dingots.

Steal from Evil Knight Percy your choice: 5 dingots or "Princess" the poodle.

Isle of Happy

Isle of the Fearsome Dragon

Rob the Blue Carbuncle treasure room. Get 20 dingots.

Roll the die with Mr. Death: 1–3 = lose 10 dingots, 4–6= get 10 dingots.

Isle of Zerzin

Steal Snow Troll's broom. Collect 10 dingots reward from Snow Sultan.

Singing Sword Island

If you have opened the door, get 30 dingots.

LEGEND

Go again.

Lose a turn.

Princess Penelope joins your crew (no gold, but she might come in handy later)!

Island of Pink and Fuzzy

Get 5 dingots but lose a turn as you lose your lunch.

Biclops Island

When he's not looking, get 20 dingots and the key to the door.

Pay Sharkface Willy 5 dingots rent on the Sea Chicken.

Find King Crabby's pink pearl. Trade it for 10 dingots.

The ghost of Angus Dagnabit makes you give 5 dingots to the player on your right.

Steal the witches' rent money. Get 5 dingots.

Locked Door Island

If you have the key, open the door and get 20 dingots.

Flash Dashing steals all your dingots (up to 30).

Sir Pantsalot gives you 15 dingots if you have "Princess" the poodle.

Meet Darsh the Dragon. If you have Princess Penelope, collect 5 dingots and go again.

Q: How much did the pirate pay to get his ears pierced?
A: A buck an ear.
—Sarah, CA, age 12

Explore the world of Mad Jack the Pirate Saturdays on FOX KIDS!

Game Instructions

2–4 Players

You'll need a die, markers to move, pencil and paper to keep track of dingots, keys, princesses, and poodles collected by each player.

Start with Mad Jack and set sail on the Sea Chicken for adventure and gold in the direction of the arrow. Roll the die, and land where you can, collecting as many dingots as possible. Keep sailing 'round and 'round the slab and get 10 dingots every time you pass "Start." The first pirate to collect 100 dingots wins!

GODZILLA™

THE EVOLUTION

The biggest new star on FOX KIDS this fall has actually been around for a while—like, for over forty years. Godzilla (or Gojira, as he was originally named) has been tearing up Tokyo, crushing jets and tanks, and battling all kinds of weird monsters since he first appeared in 1956.

Of course, the Godzilla you know and love is different from the Godzilla played by the guy in a rubber suit from days of old. The big guy in theaters last summer was a fast, ferocious monster, taller than the Statue of Liberty. He was definitely one tough lizard, but he left a little something behind, and just wait till you meet his kid! (Read on...)

GODZILLA™

THE SERIES

Looking for an old flick to rent? Check these out!

Godzilla, King of the Monsters:
Okay, so it's in black and white. It's still the best Godzilla movie ever. Your folks will like seeing a young Raymond Burr, and you'll love seeing cities destroyed by a 15-story reptile!

Godzilla vs. Mothra:
The two little women who sing to call Mothra™ (yes, a giant moth) are the best thing about this one. Watch as Mothra's kids, a pair of larvae, take down the big lizard by wrapping him in a cocoon!

Godzilla vs. Monster Zero:
The alien suits, the wacky sets of Planet X (you know, the one hidden behind Jupiter), and Godzilla dancing a jig after kicking the butt of King Ghidorah™ make this video a blast and a half!

Be prepared for the biggest, baddest new show around when it hits FOX KIDS like...well, like a giant prehistoric monster! The newest member of the Godzilla family teams up with the H.E.A.T heroes to battle all sorts of vile new monsters suddenly springing up from the earth and the sea. He's bigger and badder than any to come before him. The question running through the team's mind, though, is, who's side is the big radioactive lizard on, anyway?

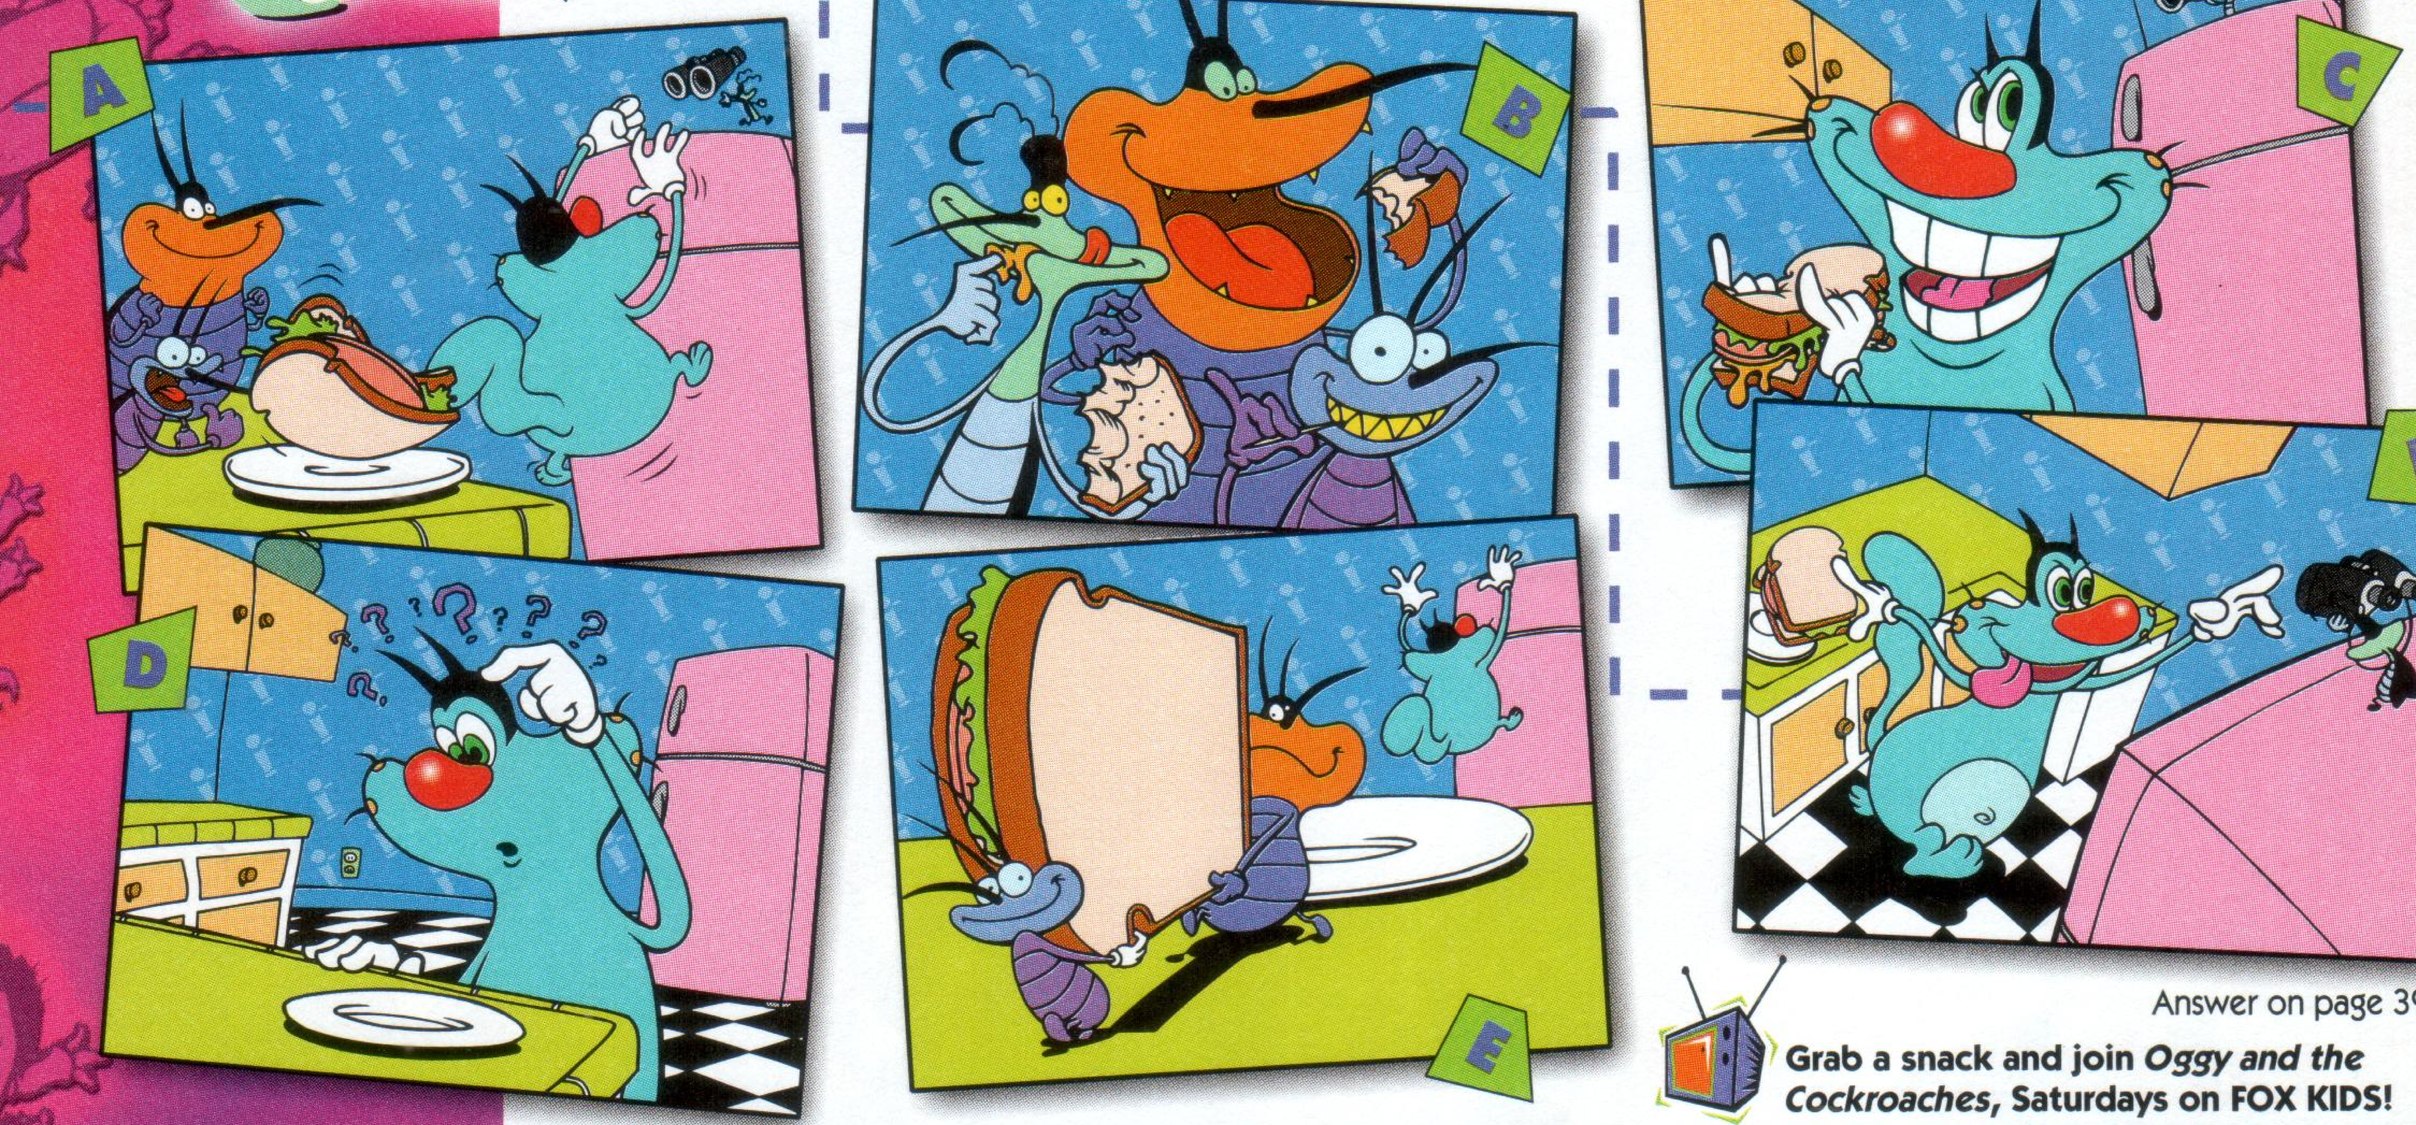

(Watch FOX KIDS Saturdays to find out.)

OGGY AND THE COCKROACHES IN KITCHEN CHAOS!

Oggy was just trying to have a pleasant lunch when, POW! cockroach attack! Well, you can see what happened in the mixed-up pictures below. Can you put them in order so they tell the story of Oggy's kitchen chaos?

Answer on page 39.

Grab a snack and join Oggy and the Cockroaches, Saturdays on FOX KIDS!

Ned's newt Peculiar Pets

Sure, Ned has the strangest, weirdest, coolest pet of all. But we figured, even if you don't have a ten-foot-tall talking magic newt, you probably have stories to tell about your own pet. Here are some of the tales we got from FOX KIDS just like you on our Web site, www.foxkids.com!

My dog, Sweety, can navigate a small raft in my pool. She jumps out of the raft, swims to the steps, and pulls the raft back to the pool deck.
Andrew, 14, FL

My dog goes to the bathroom on the toilet bowl. He can also eat with a fork and drink out of a cup. He is really cool!!
Ariel, 14, NJ

Our cat made friends with a skunk in the front yard. Underdog, our cat, liked the skunk so much that we caught him kissing the skunk by the garbage can. I never saw a cat kiss a skunk before.
Cody, 6, CT

My cat, Cherry, is very strange sometimes. When he doesn't have food in his bowl, he opens the cabinet and gets his food out himself. He also goes to the shower and gets his head wet but he never wants to take showers. When he gets sick, he throws up in the toilet.
Mohamed, 9, TX

My pet is a hedgehog and when it gets SCARED it rolls into a spiny ball.
Angelo, 12, SC

My mom and I were playing volleyball outside one day and my dog, Brownie, was catching the ball and then my mom hit it so hard, my dog jumped up and did a back flip and landed on his back.
Christian, 10, NJ

My horse laughs.
Laurelyn, 8, AL

My Boston terrier, Precious, is like a circus dog. She can bounce a ball off her nose.
Stephanie, 11, OK

If you have a wacky story about your pet, or a fun photo of the little guy, send it in to PETS, P.O. Box 7771, Burbank, CA 91505. You might just get your pet on the air!

We'll bet even your pet isn't as wild as Ned's Newt!

MELISSA SCREETCH FREAKY FILL-IN!

Grab a friend and ask her for the words listed under each blank. Then read her twisted tale back to her!

As Melissa Screetch sauntered

[ADVERB]
Down the lane one afternoon,
She started whistling to herself

A mournful _____ tune.
[HOLIDAY/IMPORTANT EVENT]

A nearby _____ heard her song
[ANIMAL]
And tried his best to bite her,

So Melissa bit him on the_____,
[PART OF THE BODY]
The mangy, no-good cur.

But a little hide between one's teeth

Hardly makes a _____ meal.
[ADJECTIVE]
So Melissa went home and asked her mom
For some _____ uncooked
[ADJECTIVE]
veal.

But her mother said,
"We've just run out.
How about a _____ stick?"
[VEGETABLE]

Melissa_____, and said,
[FACIAL EXPRESSION]
"No thanks—veggies make me sick."

She _____(ed) through the [VERB]
refrigerator,
Finding junk food snacks and meat,

Cheesy poofs, _____, and [CANDY]
whipped cream,
Pickled cow's tongue, and wee pigs' feet.

She rolled the whole batch in sugar and fat,
And fried it in _____ and oil.
[LIQUID]
She threw the bones to her new pet,

And _____ as her dinner boiled.
[MOUTH SOUND]

Her _____ said, "You know, my [FAMILY MEMBER]
dear,
They say you're what you eat".

"In that case," Melissa screeched,

"I'll be _____, but sweet!"
[ADJECTIVE]

But no sooner had she finished the junk
And _____(ed) the grease
[VERB]
from her lips,
Than she could hear her arteries harden,
And grew _____ inches in the hips.
[NUMBER]

Melissa wailed and _____ [NOISE] and moaned
Because she was so fat,

But _____ liked her
[PET'S NAME]
better than bones,
And ate up that little brat.

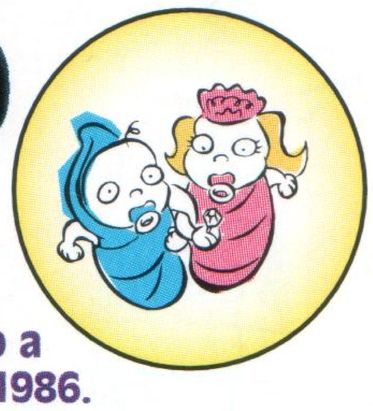

Now focus. Peer at this picture and find all eight bones!

The gang at Toonsylvania can now be found Monday afternoons only on FOX KIDS!

CHECK YOURSELF Check-Off Quiz

Have you seen the Check Yourself Kids between shows on FOX KiDS? Then this little quiz should be a no-brainer. Check your Check Yourself knowledge!

1. Your best friend dares you to try a new (and scary) bike trick. Do you...

A) Go for it, if you want to keep your friend?

B) Tell her she's a jerk and leave?

C) Check your inner voice, figure out what works for you, and try it when you're ready?

D) Pretend you can't understand what she's saying?

2. Your mom makes you clean your room instead of watching your favorite show, making you furious. Do you...

A) Stop talking to her for a week?

B) Call all your friends and tell them how mean your mom is?

C) Draw it, write it, let it out?

D) Find a new mom on sale at Moms "Я" Us?

3. Your little brother steps on the model airplane you've been working on for weeks and breaks it. Do you...

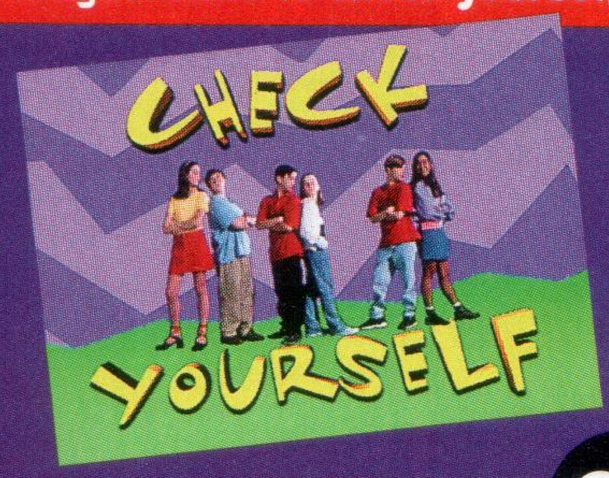

A) Punch him in the nose?

B) Cry, scream, tell your mom, stomp your feet, etc?

C) Stop, breathe, count to three... get calm, think, and realize it was an accident?

D) Duct tape him to a tree with a sign reading "toy breaker"?

if you answered anything but C on any of these questions, we think you're getting snacks during commercial breaks instead of watching the Check Yourself messages! Time to check yourself!

EARTH CREW

ECOLOGY TECHNOLOGY

MAGNETIC CONDITIONER

The Demac Company makes a MAGNETIC CONDITIONER that we can use at home. It filters out all the crusty stuff that's hidden in the water, removing the minerals that can gunk up your insides. It helps plants grow better too, because the water is absorbed more efficiently. And if you have a swimming pool, it will even prevent the buildup of gross algae and fungi. Uggh! Who'd want to swim in that stuff??!!

HEADWATERS HIKER

With the help of Deep E Company, Woody Harrelson is bringing a hiking shoe to the market called the HEADWATERS HIKER, that's as easy on the planet as it is on your feet. The tops are made of industrial hemp, a canvas material that's three times stronger than cotton, and gentle on the earth (no chemicals needed). The bottoms are made of recycled material like old tires. And all the money Woody makes from the shoes goes directly to save the Headwaters Redwoods!

SOYCLEAN is now making a line of cleaning products that are safe on the earth and safe on you! Because they're made from soybeans, they aren't poisonous or flammable like most cleaning products. The farms grow plants, which release oxygen, helping avoid the greenhouse effect (unlike nasty chemical factories). Now you can clean the earth as you clean your Bar-B-Que!

Ohh, Nooo!!! It's Mr. Bill!

After a successful, yet physically painful, stint on the legendary hit series Saturday Night Live, America's favorite clayboy has moved in with the Fox Family. Now Mr. Bill® is hitting the road with his own show called Ohhh, Nooo!!! Mr. Bill Presents.... We caught up with Mr. Bill in his Hollywood Hills apartment and asked him a few questions about his new show....

TFK: Mr. Bill, tell us a little bit about this great new show of yours!

Mr. Bill: I like to describe it as Family Ties meets Looney Tunes. It's really a bunch of cool comedy clips with me at the beginning, the middle, and the end. It's really hip.

TFK: Who is this evil Sluggo character?

Mr. Bill: Sluggo is a friend of mine from way back when on Saturday Night Live. He's all right; I think he just has some issues from his childhood.

TFK: Who's Mr. Hand?

Mr. Bill: He's my best friend and my personal manager. He's really smart, but he's such a klutz—I always seem to get hurt when he's around.

TFK: That's strange. Mr. Bill, do you have any brothers, sisters, pets?

Mr. Bill: Yes, my dog Spot is my friend. But the poor guy almost died when Mr. Hand dropped off a huge sack of dog food for him. I'm sure he didn't mean to drop it on him.

TFK: Ouch! What about you, Mr. Bill... what do you like to do when you're not working?

Mr. Bill: I love to play golf but I tend to get hurt a lot. I guess I look a lot like a golf ball.

TFK: Oh, I see what you mean! Better stick to acting. Do you have any final words of wisdom for your fans out there?

Mr. Bill: Oh, yes! Think big and always be nice, but don't let people step all over you!

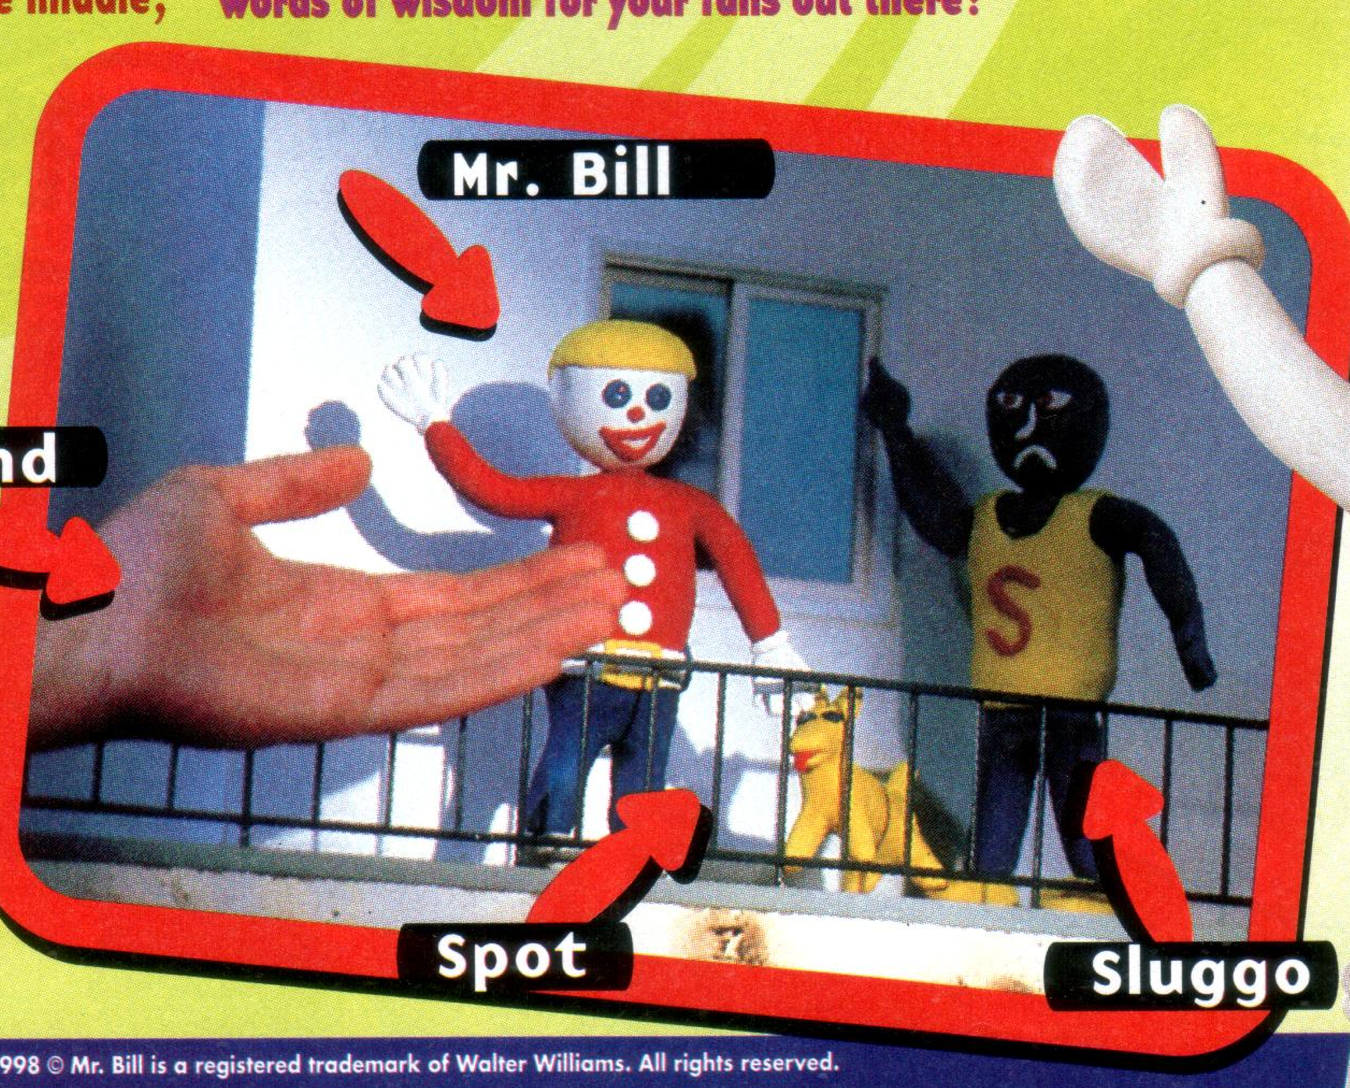

TFK: Good advice. Mr. Bill, thank you so much for letting us get to know you! We'll tell everyone we know to watch your big debut on the Fox Family Channel. What do you say we get some pizza?

Mr. Bill: Ohhh, nooo!!! I had a bad experience with a pizza. A rolling pin ran me over and there was marinara sauce everywhere—it was ugly!

video review

Goosebumps: One Day at Horrorland

This video is about a family who goes to an amusement park that is like Disneyland turned freaky. My favorite part was when these fireballs were shooting at the family. I liked how the monsters looked in the video. I also liked how the monster at the snack bar made juice come out of his finger. I think it was cool when they went in the house of mirrors. Instead of a jungle cruise, the kids went on a coffin cruise. I rated this video 4 on a scale of 5.

AMAZING ANAGRAMS

An ANAGRAM, as you may know already, is a word or phrase made by rearranging the letters of another word or phrase. These are some of the best anagrams ever, which we found while surfing the net.

Dormitory = Dirty Room
The Morse Code = Here Come Dots
Snooze Alarms = Alas! No More Z's
The Public Art Galleries = Large Picture Halls, I Bet
A Decimal Point = I'm a Dot in Place
Eleven plus two = Twelve plus one

This one's amazing:

[From Hamlet by Shakespeare]

"To be or not to be; that is the question. Whether 'tis nobler in the mind to suffer the slings and arrows of outrageous fortune."* =
In one of the Bard's best-thought-of tragedies, our insistent hero, Hamlet, queries on two fronts about how life turns rotten.

And the grand finale:

"That's one small step for a man, one giant leap for MANKIND."
—Neil A. Armstrong =
A thin man ran; makes a large stride;
left planet, pins flag on moon! On to Mars!

Got the hang of it? Now it's your turn. Yours doesn't have to relate the same way these do...but you can try! Come up with an anagram for FUDDLEMENTS.
